THE DeVOS FAMILY

The DeVos family purchased the Orlando Magic in September of 1991. Since then, the family has proudly served in its self-appointed role as the franchise's "caretaker" while operating under the belief the NBA franchise really belongs to the Central Florida community and loyal Magic fans.

Orlando Magic Tenure

Since 1991, the franchise has won eight division championships, two Eastern Conference titles and had seven 50-win seasons, including a franchise-record 60 victories in 1995-96. The Magic have advanced to the playoffs 18 times during that span, while finishing with a .500 record or better in 19 of the last 33 seasons.

The operation of the Magic has always been a passion and priority for the entire family – starting with the late Rich and Helen DeVos, and their four children and spouses. Today, Rich and Helen's children and grandchildren are active with the team and affiliates as well.

Affiliates include the team's NBA G League franchise, the Osceola Magic, which captured the NBA G League championship in 2020-21, and the Orlando Solar Bears of the ECHL, which serves as the affiliate to the National Hockey League's Tampa Bay Lightning.

Philanthropy

The DeVos family is actively involved with philanthropic and community efforts in Central Florida and beyond. Much of the family's philanthropy supports efforts to come alongside underserved communities and support their work to enact meaningful change, remove barriers, and allow for all to achieve their full potential. One such effort is a partnership with the Orlando Magic Youth Foundation (OMYF), which seeks to positively impact nearly 100,000 youth each year through programs addressing education, the arts, homelessness, and health and wellness. The DeVos family generously underwrites the operational expenses of the foundation, ensuring that every dollar raised directly aids children who will benefit from its support.

Commitment to Orlando

The family played a key role in helping to secure the state-of-the-art Kia Center in Orlando. Opening in October 2010, the Kia Center is part of a public community venues program that also includes the Dr. Phillips Center for the Performing Arts and a renovation of Camping World Stadium. The Magic and the DeVos family also contributed $12.5 million toward construction of five community recreation centers throughout Orange County, Florida, as part of its commitment to build the new Kia Center.

DeVos family members were introduced to the Central Florida community during Orlando's drive to bring a Major League Baseball team to "The City Beautiful." An ensuing relationship was formed between the DeVos family and the city of Orlando that culminated with the purchase of the team.

The family patriarch and Amway co-founder, Rich, understood the impact professional sports can have on the upcoming generation and inspired his family to remain committed to ensuring the team provides a positive, encouraging example for all.
