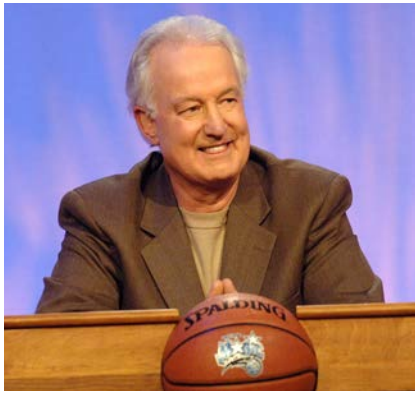
Pat Williams

May 3, 1940 - July 17, 2024

Orlando Magic co-founder, hall of famer, and sports legend Pat Williams died peacefully on July 17, 2024 surrounded by family. He was 84. The cause of death was complications from viral pneumonia. Williams' career spanned more than 56 years, including 30-plus years with the Orlando Magic and 51 years in the NBA.



"Pat Williams simply brought magic to Orlando," said Orlando Magic Chairman Dan DeVos and CEO Alex Martins in a joint statement. "His accomplishments will always be remembered. Armed with his ever-present optimism and unparalleled energy, he was an incredible visionary who helped transform the world of sports in multiple ways. From bringing the Magic to Orlando, to transforming sports marketing and promotions, he was always ahead of the curve. Pat forever changed the sports landscape in Orlando. He shined a light on what those who called Orlando home already knew – that Central Florida was a fabulous place to live, work and play. We all owe him a debt of gratitude and he will certainly be missed, but never forgotten."

More than 35 years ago, it was Williams who turned a dream into the Orlando Magic. Williams, along with local businessman Jimmy Hewitt, began the process of bringing an NBA team to Orlando in 1986. On April 22, 1987, the NBA Board of Governors granted an expansion franchise to Orlando, and on December 22, 1988, the Magic sold their 10,000th season ticket, thus fulfilling their commitment to the NBA and the Magic were born.

Williams spent well over four decades in the NBA, starting his basketball career with the Philadelphia 76ers as the club's business manager in 1968. He followed that with his first general manager role in the NBA joining the Chicago Bulls as their GM at the tender age of 29. He remained a general manager in the league for 27 years in stints with the Bulls, Hawks and Sixers, playing a major role in bringing the NBA title to Philadelphia in 1983. Williams served as the Magic's GM until 1996 when he was promoted to his post of senior vice president.

"Pat forever changed the sports landscape in Orlando... We all owe him a debt of gratitude and he will certainly be missed, but never forgotten."

Williams' first love was baseball, the sport that earned him a scholarship to Wake Forest University. While at Wake Forest, he earned a bachelor's degree in physical education. He was a three-year letterman as a catcher on the Demon Deacons baseball team and is a member of the Wake Forest Sports Hall of Fame. He later went on to earn a master's of science degree in physical education from Indiana University in 1964.

Williams' baseball career began when he signed with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1962 and spent two seasons catching for the Miami Marlins, a Class A club in the Florida State League. He quickly moved from the playing field to the front office, when he was appointed business manager of Miami in 1964. He took the general manager job with the Spartanburg (S.C.) Phillies in 1965 and was later elevated to the position of president of the organization in 1967.

In 1967, he was chosen the Minor League Executive of the Year by The Sporting News. Williams remained active in baseball as a catcher in Dream Week games in Florida during the winter. He was also the president of Orlando's Double-A Southern League team from 1990-1993.

Williams was born in Philadelphia on May 3, 1940, and was raised in nearby Wilmington, Del., where he attended Tower Hill School. He was voted into the Delaware Sports Hall of Fame in 2001.

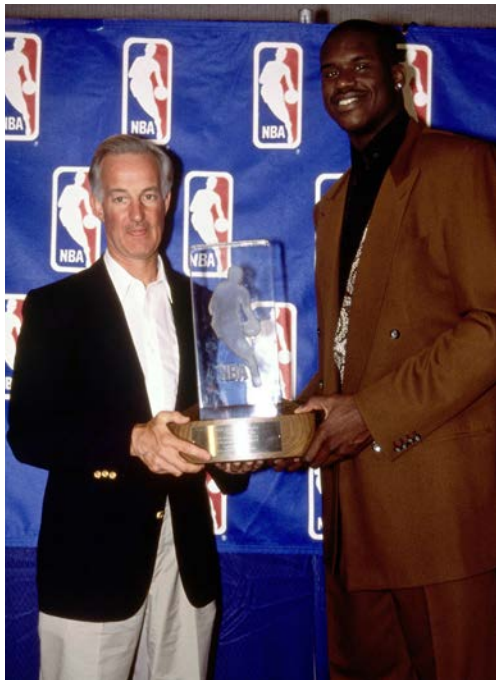
Williams was diagnosed in February 2011 with multiple myeloma. He accepted positions on several boards for different cancer groups throughout the country, including an appointment on the Board of Directors for the Multiple Myeloma Research Foundation.

Williams was the author of over 100 books. An avid runner, Williams completed 58 marathons from 1996-2011, including the Boston Marathon 13 times.

Williams was honored with the John W. Bunn Lifetime Achievement Award in 2012 by the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and was named to the Magic's Hall of Fame as a member of its inaugural class in 2014.

Williams is survived by his wife Ruth and their 19 children, 14 of whom are adopted from four foreign countries.

"Pat Williams simply brought magic to Orlando."



A STATEMENT FROM THE WILLIAMS FAMILY

It is with great sadness that we share this news about our Dad, Pat Williams. He stepped into his eternal reward today, and as believers, we know that this is cause for celebration.

We have peace through our broken hearts knowing he's in the arms of Jesus. He was the best husband, father and grandfather and brother anyone could ask for — a warrior, a hero, a visionary, but most importantly, a larger than life follower of Jesus.

He loved a challenge, and when he moved our family to Orlando to start the Magic, he was full of excitement and energy that he displayed every day. We all grew up believing that anything is possible because of his unwavering enthusiasm for what he was passionate about. Those who attended the games, saw him at church, or spent time with him in a social setting know that he never met a stranger and was always quick with an encouraging word. He was a giver, a teacher, the ultimate cheerleader, and he was a life-long learner.

He loved to read and he cherished his books. But the most important thing was that he was quick to talk about his relationship with Jesus. We know for a fact that he would want everyone reading this to realize that the greatest decision you will ever make is to make Jesus your friend and your Savior.

The Lord rewarded his hard work and faithfulness, and we will miss him dearly, but his legacy will live on. He loved Orlando and will forever be etched into the heart of who we are. We say thank you for your love and prayers through these last few weeks. We know this is not goodbye, just "see you later". In true Pat fashion, we can see him standing inside the gates of heaven ready to welcome everyone and shake their hand, just as he did at Magic games!

We love you Dad, and we will see you soon.

IN TRIBUTE

Pat Williams

1940 - 2024

Our dear friend, innovator, partner, enthusiast, and fellow dreamer Pat Williams may have left us here on earth, but we remember him today and always by celebrating the amazing legacy he built and the joy with which he tackled every day, every pursuit, and every interaction.

Pat had a way of rallying people together. We're thankful for his extraordinary ability to engage the Central Florida community as part of his work and bring together the Orlando Magic franchise and its fans. His remarkable talent for setting goals and accomplishing them was evident in every facet of his life.

A friend and leader whose vision was instrumental in advancing The City Beautiful, Pat was always up for a challenge, and that was certainly evident in his determination to bring the magic of the NBA to Orlando. As the ultimate promoter, he saw the potential in our community long before most anyone else.

Pat was not just a founding father of the Orlando Magic; he was an author, motivational speaker, loving husband and father to an amazing family, and a devout Christian whose faith was the cornerstone of his life. His passion for every day was nearly unmatched, as evidenced by his eagerness to tackle new challenges, including writing over 100 books and running many marathons in his later years.

Pat will be dearly missed, but the dreams he helped inspire and the community he helped to build will continue to thrive. On behalf of our entire family, we say thank you, Pat. We are grateful for you taking our family on a thrilling ride and inspiring us all to dream big. Your spirit will continue to inspire not only our family but also the Central Florida community and beyond.

With love,

The DeVos Family

ABOUT THE ORLANDO MAGIC

Orlando's NBA franchise since 1989, the Magic's mission is to be world champions on and off the court, delivering legendary moments every step of the way. Under the DeVos family's ownership, the Magic have seen great success in a relatively short history, winning seven division championships (1995, 1996, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2019, 2024) with seven 50-plus win seasons and capturing the Eastern Conference title in 1995 and 2009.

Off the court, on an annual basis, the Orlando Magic gives more than $2 million to the local community by way of sponsorships of events, donated tickets, autographed merchandise and grants. Orlando Magic community relations programs impact an estimated 100,000 kids each year, while a Magic staff-wide initiative provides more than 7,000 volunteer hours annually. In addition, the Orlando Magic Youth Foundation (OMYF) which serves at-risk youth, has distributed more than $29 million to local nonprofit community organizations over the last 34 years.

The Magic's other entities include the team's NBA G League affiliate, the Osceola Magic, 2021 G League champions; the Orlando Solar Bears of the ECHL, which serves as the affiliate to the NHL's Tampa Bay Lightning; and Magic Gaming of the NBA 2K League.

The Magic play their home games at the award-winning Kia Center – voted by fans no. 1 in the NBA for game experience; honored with TheStadiumBusiness Awards' Customer Experience Award; named Sports Business Journal's Sports Facility of the Year; and awarded the Venue Excellence Award (VEA) by the International Association of Venue Managers. The Magic was also named in the inaugural "Best Places to Work in Sports 2023" awards by the Sports Business Journal, and was the only sports franchise among the four major professional leagues (NBA, NFL, NHL, MLB) to be honored.

In January of 2021, the DeVos family, Orlando Magic and AdventHealth announced an enhanced, multiyear partnership that is highlighted by a new downtown state-of-the-art training center for the Orlando Magic, and also a destination sports medicine hub to Central Florida.

ADVENTHEALTH TRAINING CENTER: OPEN FOR BUSINESS AUGUST 31, 2022

The AdventHealth Training Center, a 130,000-square-foot facility located on a nearly four-acre site at South Division Avenue and West Central Boulevard, is the practice and training home to the Orlando Magic. The site is one block from the Kia Center.

Together, AdventHealth and the Orlando Magic are building an innovative health and wellness model that brings whole-person medicine, science and research together to optimize sports performance, while bringing those learnings to the broader community.

AdventHealth, a partner with the Magic for more than 30 years, is also a "Champion of the Community" partner with the team. As a Magic "Champion of the Community" partner, the two remain committed to improving the lives of all Central Floridians.

"Our hope is that this facility is even more than a world-class training center and becomes a true 'win-win' for the community and the team," said Dan DeVos, chairman of the Orlando Magic. "We're dedicated to two things – building a championship organization for the long-term and being an accountable and invested community partner with local residents. Health and wellness are so important to all of us and we're eager to see this center contribute to meaningful outcomes on and off the court."

AdventHealth physicians and clinical leaders are working with the Orlando Magic to create a unique medical and wellness model for players that brings all elements of health together to optimize performance, reduce injuries and extend career longevity on the court. The organizations are bringing top physicians, sports performance experts and researchers together to deliver patients a wholistic focus that includes areas such as digestive health, nutrition, mental health and sleep, in addition to more traditional areas like orthopedics and primary care.

The goal is to establish new standards of care that can be applied to athletes of all ages and stages – from youth sports players, to weekend warriors, to the pros.

"The Orlando Magic organization is thrilled to broaden its longstanding partnership with AdventHealth. Their commitment to clinical excellence, advancing medicine and improving the health of our players and entire community is unrivaled," said Magic CEO Alex Martins. "This best-in-class training center will provide Magic players, coaches and our human performance staff with the resources and technology necessary to excel in an increasingly competitive NBA landscape. This facility, combined with the unique care model we're developing together, will make an immense difference for our players."

"First and foremost, without the commitment by the DeVos family and AdventHealth, we would not be here today," said Magic President of Basketball Operations Jeff Weltman. "This center is a game changer and the investment speaks to how much we care for the well-being of our players and for those that work hard every day to provide them a platform to reach their full potential."

A large team "family room" acts as the facility's hub, complete with enhanced nutrition offerings and a full kitchen. Leading training and recovery technologies, including an altitude chamber and hydrotherapy offerings as well as an expansive locker room with high-end finishes elevate the player experience. The facility includes two full-size courts overlooked by an elevated viewing balcony. To take advantage of Orlando's warm climate, the design includes covered exterior patios and decks, a creatively landscaped outdoor team space and indoor/outdoor training space. The facility also includes front office and hospitality spaces that celebrate the Orlando Magic's brand and history.

AdventHealth's 33,300-square-foot medical hub – designed for elite athletes, as well as youth athletes and weekend warriors – provides world-class, multi-discipline medicine with a focus on whole-person health and sports science. Services include orthopedics, cardiology, head and neck care, imaging, physical therapy, sports medicine and sports performance. Patients also have access to AdventHealth's network of sports-trained gastroenterologists and experts in sleep, psychology and nutrition.

The project incorporates sustainable design strategies including daylighting and strategic sun shading, stormwater management, and advanced mechanical and lighting systems and controls.

"We are thrilled to partner with the Orlando Magic and are developing a health model that has the potential to not only revolutionize how we care for our professional athletes, but also apply those learnings to our larger community," said President and CEO of AdventHealth's Central Florida Division Randy Haffner. "Health and the importance of leading a healthy lifestyle has never been more important than it is today. We look forward to building this program with the Magic and providing this world-class destination sports medicine hub for our broader community."

The Orlando Magic and AdventHealth also continue its commitment to Minority and Women-Owned Business Enterprises (MWBE) with the awarding of $17 million of design and construction contracts for the project to 33 local MWBEs. That amount represents approximately 32 percent of awarded opportunities, which is over the city's recommended 24 percent MWBE participation.

The facility was designed by HOK, with Balfour Beatty serving as the construction manager. Partners featured in and around the building include Verizon, Altitude International, Violet Defense, Volta Charging, Jani-King and Massey Services. Each partner provides a unique aspect, enhancing the state-of-the-art experience and commitment to health and wellness.

In May of 2023, the AdventHealth Training Center was recognized with the Downtown Orlando Partnership (DOP) Golden Brick Award, taking home its Award of Excellence. The Golden Bricks recognize projects nominated for community and development which positively impacted downtown Orlando.

AdventHealth TRAINING CENTER

AdventHealth Training Center Will Help Optimize Orlando Magic Player Performance

By Josh Cohen, OrlandoMagic.com

The AdventHealth Training Center is a game changer for Orlando Magic players. Inside is an array of ultramodern equipment, technology and services for them to optimize their performance, reduce injuries and extend their career longevity.

The design of the facility combined with the training features helps players both physically and mentally. Included are two practice courts with six baskets, an 8,000+-foot state-of-the-art weight room, a float pod, an altitude chamber, a full body cryotherapy chamber, sauna and steam rooms, recovery and massage rooms, aquatic spaces, an outdoor turf, a large kitchen and dining area, and much more.

It was back in January of 2021 when the DeVos family, the Magic and AdventHealth announced the more than 130,000-square-foot training center located on a nearly four-acre site at South Division Avenue and West Central Boulevard.

Together, AdventHealth and the Magic are building an innovative health and wellness model that brings whole-person medicine, science and research together to optimize sports performance, while bringing those learnings to the broader community.

AdventHealth is a "Champion of the Community" partner of the Orlando Magic, and has been a partner for more than 30 years. Magic "Champion of the Community" partners represent organizations that are committed to improving the lives of all Central Floridians.

This new practice venue will help attract prospective free agents as well, showing players the organization's commitment to their skill development as well as physical and mental health.

Here's a more in-depth look at some of the equipment, spaces and partnerships at the AdventHealth Training Center that enhances the state-of-the-art experience and a commitment to health and wellness:

ADVENTHEALTH TRAINING CENTER

Float Pod
A sensory deprivation pod that helps relax the body and mind simultaneously. Full of water and a high dose of Epsom salt, the floating pod is a multifaceted tool to decrease anxiety and relieve muscle pain. It provides the feeling of weightlessness and shuts out all sights and sounds.

Full Body Cryotherapy Chamber
A quick way to get full body cold exposure for recovery. This treatment typically lasts for under three minutes. There are several health benefits of cryotherapy. One of the main ones, according to Healthline.com, is that it numbs nerve irritation.

Hydro Area
Featuring hot and cold plunges for recovery after workouts. They will also be used for contrast baths. Within this space, there is a small pool that includes an underwater treadmill by HydroWorx. This comes in handy when a player is recovering from a lower body injury as it allows them to run at a reduced body weight.

Infrared Sauna and Steam Room
Critical for players to increase their body's core temperature and detox. According to Sunlighten.com, "infrared sauna use produces sweat containing 80% water and 20% toxins while conventional sauna use produces sweat containing 97% water and only 3% toxins."

Jani-King
A commercial cleaning program tailored to fit the AdventHealth Training Center's needs of each player, patient, doctor and personnel. Clean floors and regular dusting not only improve the overall health and safety of the facility, but will also have a direct impact on the positive morale of those working in the building every day.

Kitchen and Dining Area
Nutrition is a major part of athletic performance, development and recovery. Well aware of that, the Magic designed over 8,000 square feet to the kitchen and dining areas in the new training center. There is even an outdoor barbecue space where players are able to eat healthy meals right off the grill.

Other notable additions are an expansive locker room with high-end finishes designed to elevate the player experience, two full-size courts overlooked by an elevated viewing balcony, covered exterior patios and decks, a creatively landscaped outdoor team space and indoor/outdoor training space. The facility also includes front office and hospitality spaces that celebrate the Magic's brand and history.

Medical Evaluation Rooms
A huge benefit of sharing space with AdventHealth is that the Magic now have on-site medical care in the same facility. If an MRI or CT Scan is needed, for example, that equipment is right there.

Outdoor Lap Pool/Outdoor Turf Space
Many players like to swim for cardio conditioning. The turf outside, meanwhile, is used for running sprints and performing other track-related activities.

Verizon
Verizon provides the infrastructure for cellular coverage throughout the facility.

Volta Charging
Five Volta EV charging stalls are installed in the outside surface lot near the stadium entrances for fans and guests and an additional five stalls, with ten collective charging ports, are available for staff and team usage within the underground parking facility. Volta's public EV chargers, such as those installed at the AdventHealth Training Center, support the rapid transition to electric mobility by making charging accessible and convenient for all.

The DeVos family purchased the Orlando Magic in September of 1991. Since then, the family has proudly served in its self-appointed role as the franchise's "caretaker" while operating under the belief the NBA franchise really belongs to the Central Florida community and loyal Magic fans.

Orlando Magic Tenure

Since 1991, the franchise has won eight division championships, two Eastern Conference titles and had seven 50-win seasons, including a franchise-record 60 victories in 1995-96. The Magic have advanced to the playoffs 18 times during that span, while finishing with a .500 record or better in 19 of the last 33 seasons.

The operation of the Magic has always been a passion and priority for the entire family – starting with the late Rich and Helen DeVos, and their four children and spouses. Today, Rich and Helen's children and grandchildren are active with the team and affiliates as well.

Affiliates include the team's NBA G League franchise, the Osceola Magic, which captured the NBA G League championship in 2020-21; the Orlando Solar Bears of the ECHL, which serves as the affiliate to the National Hockey League's Tampa Bay Lightning; and Magic Gaming, which competes in the NBA 2K League.

Philanthropy

The DeVos family is actively involved with philanthropic and community efforts in Central Florida and beyond. Much of the family's philanthropy supports efforts to come alongside underserved communities and support their work to enact meaningful change, remove barriers, and allow for all to achieve their full potential. One such effort is a partnership with the Orlando Magic Youth Foundation (OMYF), which seeks to positively impact nearly 100,000 youth each year through programs addressing education, the arts, homelessness, and health and wellness. The DeVos family generously underwrites the operational expenses of the foundation, ensuring that every dollar raised directly aids children who will benefit from its support.

Commitment to Orlando

The family played a key role in helping to secure the state-of-the-art Kia Center in Orlando. Opening in October 2010, the Kia Center is part of a public community venues program that also includes the Dr. Phillips Center for the Performing Arts and a renovation of Camping World Stadium. The Magic and the DeVos family also contributed $12.5 million toward construction of five community recreation centers throughout Orange County, Florida, as part of its commitment to build the new Kia Center.

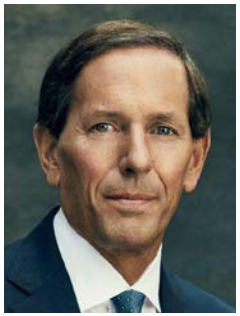
DeVos family members were introduced to the Central Florida community during Orlando's drive to bring a Major League Baseball team to "The City Beautiful." An ensuing relationship was formed between the DeVos family and the city of Orlando that culminated with the purchase of the team.

The family patriarch and Amway co-founder, Rich, understood the impact professional sports can have on the upcoming generation and inspired his family to remain committed to ensuring the team provides a positive, encouraging example for all.

RICH AND HELEN DeVOS COURT MEMORIAL

In 2019, the Orlando Magic permanently dedicated its home court at the Kia Center to honor its late Senior Chairman, Rich DeVos and his late wife, Helen DeVos. The court prominently features a "Rich and Helen DeVos Court" memorial insignia.

After purchasing the Magic in 1991, Rich and Helen's vision was that the team and organization would serve as a platform to improve the Central Florida community. They led by example donating millions annually to the local community through grants, sponsorships of events, donated tickets and autographed merchandise. Their legacy lives on today through the Orlando Magic's community and philanthropic contributions, as well as the DeVos family's continued philanthropy throughout Central Florida.



DAN DeVOS
Chairman/Governor

Dan DeVos serves as chairman of the Orlando Magic and is a member of the NBA Board of Governors. In this role, he focuses on long-term strategic planning for the organization and new business initiatives. He also represents ownership in business, community and public activities while working closely with the Magic's CEO regarding business and basketball operations.

DeVos is chairman of RDV Sports which, in addition to the Orlando Magic, includes the Orlando Solar Bears of the ECHL, the Osceola Magic of the NBA G League, and Magic Gaming of the NBA 2K League. He also leads the Orlando Magic Youth Foundation as the organization's chairman.

In addition to his commitment to the Magic, DeVos supports a number of sports, business and philanthropic endeavors. He is co-owner, CEO and governor of the Grand Rapids Griffins of the American Hockey League (AHL) – the 2013 and 2017 Calder Cup Champions, and the top affiliate for the NHL's Detroit Red Wings. DeVos serves as a member of the AHL's executive committee as well. DeVos also is the owner of the Grand Rapids Rise of the Professional Volleyball Federation.

In business, DeVos is chairman and CEO of DP Fox Ventures, LLC, a diversified business development and management company with interests in real estate, transportation and sports. DP Fox employs more than 1,800 professionals through companies including Fox Powersports and Fox Motor Group, a retail transportation group representing 49 manufacturers at 43 locations in Michigan and Chicago.

A member of the board of directors of Amway, the world's largest direct selling company, DeVos also serves as president/CEO of Cape Eleuthera Resort and Marina on the island of Eleuthera in The Bahamas. Additionally, DeVos is a partner in the Georgian Automotive Group, based in Barrie, Ontario, as well as a partner of CWD Real Estate Investment in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

DeVos is involved in a variety of philanthropic organizations including serving on the board of trustees for Hope Network Foundation, as past president of the board of the Grand Rapids Symphony, and as vice chair of the Grand Valley University Foundation. He also serves on the board of trustees for Northwood University, his alma mater.

His wife, Pamella, is president and creative director of PAMELLA ROLAND. They have two daughters and one son.

ALEX MARTINS
Chief Executive Officer/Alternate Governor

Alex Martins, who has spent 37 years in professional sports management and rejoined the Magic in June 2005, was promoted to chief executive officer on December 7, 2011. He previously served as president for more than one year and was the team's chief operating officer from 2006-10. Martins also serves as CEO of SED Development, LLC, an affiliate of the Magic which is currently planning an entertainment mixed use development across Church Street from the Kia Center. Martins represents the Magic as the team's alternate governor to the NBA Board of Governors, as well as managing partner of the Osceola Magic, Orlando's affiliate in the NBA G League, as well as having served on the NBA's Season Restart Committee which has advised the league on the return to play from the COVID-19 hiatus. Martins also serves on the NBA G League Labor Relations Committee.

Martins, who served in various senior-level management capacities with the Magic between 1989-98 and as the organization's executive vice president of marketing and franchise relations in 2005-06, oversees all operations of the club, as well as those of the Orlando Solar Bears of the ECHL and the Osceola Magic of the NBA G League.

During the past 18 years, Martins led the Magic in a transformation of its business operations, while overseeing a ticket sales, premium sales and corporate partnership effort which saw the most successful business year in the history of the franchise in the 2022-23 season. Additionally, in March 2024, the Sports Business Journal announced its inaugural "Best Places to Work in Sports 2023" awards to recognize the best companies across select categories for their leadership and unwavering commitment to their employees. The Orlando Magic was the only sports franchise among the four major professional leagues (NBA, NFL, NHL, MLB) to be recognized by the SBJ.

Under its previous most successful business year in 2010-11, the team received the recognition of the Sports Business Journal which named the Magic as a finalist for Professional Sports Team of the Year, the only NBA team to be named a finalist that year.

Similarly, Martins has spearheaded the transformation of the current Magic basketball operations department, with the hiring and management of the current basketball administration leadership. Martins also oversaw the development staff for the construction of the Magic's new, 130,000-square-foot AdventHealth Training Facility, which opened during the summer of 2022.

Included in the franchise's success during his tenure, has been the largest season ticket base in franchise history in 2010-11 (14,200), the most successful corporate partnership sales effort in franchise history in 2021-22 and the highest group ticket sales in the NBA for the last nine consecutive years. Amongst these records is the largest increase in attendance in the NBA over the five-year period from 2010-15.

Martins was instrumental in helping to secure the state-of-the-art Kia Center in Orlando. The Kia Center is part of a public community venues program that also included the Dr. Phillips Center for the Performing Arts and a renovation of Camping World Stadium. The Kia Center opened in October 2010. The facility was named a finalist for the Sports Business Journal's Sports Facility of the Year Award for two consecutive years and captured the award in 2012. Additionally, the Magic also contributed $20 million toward and constructed five community recreation centers throughout Orange County, Florida, as part of its commitment to build the Kia Center. The Kia Center was also honored in 2013 with the Customer Experience Award during TheStadiumBusiness Awards presentation held in association with TheStadiumBusiness Summit in Manchester, England.

At the annual NBA Sales and Marketing Meetings, the Magic have regularly been recognized with several awards during the past decade including the "New Full Season Ticket Award" twice for being No. 1 in the NBA in new full season tickets sold, a "90 Percent Renewal Award" for being just one of five teams to achieve a 90 percent-or-higher season ticket renewal rate in 2007, a "Sponsorship Account Performance Award" for the extraordinary number of accounts secured by the global partnerships department and the "Retailer of the Year Award" twice, for the team's retail sales performance. The team has also been awarded the NBA Sponsorship Retention Award in two of the last three seasons. The team was also recognized this past season as #1 in the NBA for customer experience by the NBA.

Martins originally joined the Magic as director of publicity/media relations in April 1989. In September of 1996, he was promoted to senior director of communications. He also previously served as the Chairman of the Board of the Magic Action Team Community Fund. The Magic Action Team Fund developed into the Orlando Magic Youth Foundation, which has distributed more than $26 million to local nonprofit organizations during the last 31 years, including more than $1 million last season. Additionally, Martins served on the developmental board of the DeVos Sport Business Management Program at the University of Central Florida. The program has been funded through a $9 million endowment by Rich and Helen DeVos and awards dual Masters degrees in Sport Management and Business Administration.

Martins also has served as the senior vice president of marketing and branding for the NBA's New Orleans Hornets, vice president of communications and public affairs with the NFL's Cleveland Browns and vice president of sports ventures with the Tavistock Group. At Tavistock, Martins served as tournament director of The Tavistock Cup, a PGA Tour-sanctioned event.

Martins started his career as a student assistant in the Villanova sports information department, assisted in the Philadelphia 76ers public relations department and was also the assistant sports information director at Georgetown University (1988-89).

Martins currently serves as the Chair of the UCF Board of Trustees. He previously served as Vice Chair, as well as Chair of the Educational Programs Committee and the Finance and Facilities Committee. Martins is also past chairman of the Metro Orlando Economic Development Commission and The Central Florida Partnership, as well as past chairman of the Orlando Community Construction Corporation, the entity responsible for the construction of the Dr. Phillips Center for the Performing Arts. He also has served on the board of directors of the Orlando/Orange County Convention & Visitors Bureau and the Central Florida Commission on Homeless. Martins also currently serves on the Central Florida board of directors for Seaside National Bank & Trust, and is the Chairman of the Governor's Council of the Orlando Economic Partnership.

In April 2015, Martins received the James B. Greene Economic Development Award, which is the highest honor bestowed by the Orlando Economic Development Commission, and recognizes an individual whose work has contributed substantially to the economic prosperity of the region. In 2013, he was awarded the Charles Andrews Memorial Hospitality Award for Community Leadership by the Central Florida Hotel and Lodging Association. The award is CFHLA's highest honor recognizing an individual's achievements and contributions to the Central Florida hospitality industry as well as the community at large. Martins was also named to Florida Trend's Florida 500 list, as well as Orlando Magazine's 50 Most Powerful People of 2022. In May 2023, he received the Chairman's Award of Excellence from the Greater Orlando Sports Commission, which honors a role model in the Central Florida region that has been a long-term contributor to both the GOSC and the local community.

Following the tragedy at Pulse nightclub in June 2016, Martins was chosen by the City of Orlando to Chair the board of directors for the largest fund for victims of the shooting, the city-sponsored OneOrlando fund.

Martins earned his MBA from the University of Central Florida, where he is a member of the College of Business Administration's Hall of Fame and recipient of University's Distinguished Alumnus Award. He also serves on the Dean's Executive Council for the College of Business Administration at UCF, and was honored with the opportunity to serve as Commencement Speaker at UCF in August 2008.

A native of Kearny, New Jersey, Martins earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from Villanova, where he graduated from in 1986. He resides in Winter Park, Fla. Martins and his wife, Juliet, have two daughters, Sophia and Gabrielle.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

MAKE IT MAGIC

JEFF WELTMAN
President of Basketball Operations

Jeff Weltman, who brings more than 33 years of experience in basketball operations in the NBA, was named president of basketball operations of the Orlando Magic on May 23, 2017. He is responsible for overseeing all aspects of the team's basketball operations department.

Since arriving in Orlando, the Magic have advanced to the playoffs three times and captured two Southeast Division championships (2019, 2024). The Magic secured postseason berths in back-to-back seasons in 2018-19 and 2019-20 for the first time in eight years (since 2010-11 and 2011-12). During his second season in Orlando (2018-19), the Magic clinched a berth into the NBA Playoffs for the first time since 2012 and captured the Southeast Division title, their first since 2009-10.

Orlando selected Paolo Banchero with the first overall pick of the 2022 NBA Draft. He went on to capture the 2022-23 NBA Rookie of the Year, becoming the third player in franchise history to ever win the award. Franz Wagner, the eighth overall pick of the 2021 NBA Draft, was named to the 2021-22 NBA All-Rookie First Team, while Jalen Suggs, the fifth overall pick in 2021, was named to the 2023-24 NBA All-Defensive Second Team. The Magic improved their win total by 12 games in 2022-23, then by 13 games in 2023-24.

Weltman came to Orlando after four seasons with the Toronto Raptors, including his final season as general manager (2016-17). He joined the Raptors as executive vice president, basketball operations in 2013.

Prior to joining Toronto, Weltman spent five seasons as assistant general manager of the Milwaukee Bucks from 2008-13. During his tenure with Milwaukee, he assisted in all basketball, salary cap and administrative matters.

Weltman came to Milwaukee following one year as director of basketball administration in Detroit (2007-08) and five seasons as assistant general manager with the Denver Nuggets (2001-06).

During his time in Denver, Weltman helped engineer personnel moves that shifted the Nuggets from a struggling team with no salary cap flexibility to one of the up-and-coming teams in the NBA. The Nuggets won 49 games in 2004-05, the fourth-most since the franchise joined the NBA in 1976. In 2003-04, the Nuggets posted the sixth-biggest turnaround in NBA history, improving their win total by 26 games and reached the playoffs for the first time since 1995.

Weltman joined the Nuggets after spending 13 seasons with the Los Angeles Clippers, where he served as director of player personnel since 1994.

The New York native originally joined the Clippers as video coordinator in 1988 and was immediately elevated to a scouting position. During his last season in Los Angeles (2000-01), the Clippers improved their win total by 16 – the biggest turnaround in the league.

Weltman graduated in 1987 from Oberlin College in Ohio, where he earned two varsity letters in basketball. He and his wife, Alexis, have twin daughters, Lucy and JJ.

ANTHONY PARKER
General Manager

Anthony Parker was named general manager of the Orlando Magic in July 2023.

During Parker's first season as general manager, Orlando posted a record of 47-35 (.573), clinched its first berth in the NBA Playoffs since 2020 and won the 2023-24 Southeast Division title. Orlando had 13 more wins than the previous season, which was the largest improvement in the Eastern Conference and fourth-best in the NBA.

Parker served as assistant general manager with Orlando for two seasons (2021-23). He rejoined the team after spending four seasons (2017-21) as general manager of the Lakeland (now Osceola) Magic of the NBA G League. Under his leadership, Lakeland recorded 94 regular season victories since beginning play, tied for the most in the NBA G League during that span. They capped off the 2020-21 campaign by winning the NBA G League championship.

Prior to joining Lakeland, Parker spent five seasons (2012-17) as a scout with the Orlando Magic.

Originally selected in the first round (21st overall) of the 1997 NBA Draft by New Jersey, Parker played in 494 career NBA regular season games (423 starts) during nine seasons (1997-2000, 2006-12) with Philadelphia, Orlando, Toronto and Cleveland, averaging 9.1 ppg., 3.2 rpg. and 2.3 apg. in 27.8 minpg., while shooting .404 (596-1,474) from three-point range. He also appeared and started in 22 career NBA playoff contests, averaging 10.9 ppg., 4.0 rpg., 1.4 apg. and 1.00 stlpg. in 34.9 minpg., while shooting .407 (33-81) from three-point range.

Parker also spent six seasons (2000-06) playing professionally in Europe – five seasons in Israel with Maccabi Tel Aviv and one in Italy with Lottomatica Roma. While with Maccabi, he helped them capture five Israeli Super League national championships, five Israeli National Cups and three European titles (two EuroLeague championships and one FIBA SuproLeague championship). Parker was named EuroLeague MVP in both 2003-04 and 2004-05.

Parker played at Bradley University for four seasons from 1993-97. He completed his collegiate career as one of only two players in school history (joining Hersey Hawkins) to finish in the school's top 10 all-time lists in scoring (1,683 points, eighth), assists (355, ninth), steals (159, seventh) and blocked shots (78, fifth). Parker was named Most Valuable Player of the Missouri Valley Conference following his junior season (1995-96) and was honored as one of 15 players named to Bradley's All-Century basketball team in 2003.

Parker also excelled academically while at Bradley. As a chemistry major, Parker was a two-time recipient of the Major Robert H. Lawrence Jr. Scholarship, given annually to an African-American student who does outstanding work in the field of chemistry. He switched his major during his senior year to liberal arts and science.

Parker and his wife, Tamy, have two sons, Alonso and Julian.

THE EVOLUTION OF ORLANDO MAGIC UNIFORMS

10,000! On December 22, 1988, the 10,000th season ticket was sold, ending the Magic's commitment to the NBA of guaranteeing 10,000 season ticketholders by January 1, 1989. Pat Williams (above) makes the announcement of Orlando meeting its season ticket goal.

A MODERN DAY P.T. BARNUM, Pat Williams turned a dream into the Orlando Magic more than 30 years ago.

"I had been working in conjunction with Jimmy Hewitt on this idea of trying to bring a basketball team to Orlando," said Williams. "He had put everything in place with ownership, an arena, the backing of the city. He called one night, late April 1986, and I remember taking the phone call in my kitchen. Jimmy, in his unmistakable southern drawl, said, 'Bubba, we've gone about as far as we can go down here. If you come down here and spearhead it we'll go forward… If you don't, we'll pull the plug'."

Williams could feel the urgency. He knew it was decision time.

"We (Philadelphia 76ers) were getting ready for the lottery in which we had a pick and we were getting ready for the playoffs. We ended up winning the lottery and had a good playoff run which made things more confusing.

"But I knew deep within that the adventure and risk involved in trying to start up a team was really something that I had to pursue. There was a restlessness in my spirit. I needed a new adventure."

Williams took the leap of faith and resigned his position as general manager of the Philadelphia 76ers.

MAGIC RETIRE #32

#32 RAISED TO THE RAFTERS FOR SHAQUILLE O'NEAL

On February 13, 2024, the Orlando Magic officially retired jersey #32 in honor of Shaquille O'Neal during a postgame ceremony, becoming the first player in franchise history to have his number retired.

"When someone asks who was the first player to officially put the Orlando Magic on the map, the answer is simple - Shaquille O'Neal," said Orlando Magic CEO Alex Martins. "He took this franchise to new heights, both on and off the court, and his legacy is still felt within our organization today. On behalf of the DeVos family, we are excited to honor Shaquille by raising #32 into the rafters of the Kia Center, where it will remain forever."

Magic Chairman Dan DeVos said, "Through his dominating play, larger-than-life personality, and generous contributions to The City Beautiful, Shaquille O'Neal had a transformational impact on this team and this town. Our family and the entire franchise couldn't be more pleased for Shaquille to receive this well-deserved honor, further cementing his enduring legacy here in Orlando as we collectively look back on his tremendous accomplishments in a Magic uniform."

Selected by Orlando with the first overall pick of the 1992 NBA Draft, O'Neal spent four seasons with the Magic from 1992-96. He appeared in 295 regular season games (293 starts) with Orlando, averaging 27.2 ppg., 12.5 rpg., 2.4 apg. and 2.79 blkpg. in 37.8 minpg., while shooting .581 (3,208-5,522 FG) from the floor.

O'Neal was named an NBA All-Star four times as a member of the Magic, named to the All-NBA Second Team once (1994-95) and All-NBA Third Team twice (1993-94, 1995-96). He was also named to the NBA All-Rookie First Team in 1992-93 and was the NBA's Rookie of the Year.

O'Neal still ranks among the franchise's all-time leaders in several categories, including blocked shots (second, 824), rebounding (third, 3,691), free throws made (third, 1,602), field goals made (fourth, 3,208) and points scored (sixth, 8,019). His 27.2 points per game average is the second-highest in team history and he helped Orlando reach the 1995 NBA Finals.

O'Neal was inducted into the Orlando Magic Hall of Fame in 2015 and was elected into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2016. He was named to the NBA's 75th Anniversary Team in October 2021.

The Emirates NBA Cup 2024, the NBA's second-ever in-season tournament, will tip off on Tuesday, Nov. 12 and culminate with the playing of the Semifinals (Saturday, Dec. 14) and Championship (Tuesday, Dec. 17) at T-Mobile Arena in Las Vegas.

The Emirates NBA Cup will consist of two stages: Group Play and the Knockout Rounds.

GROUP PLAY:

All 30 teams have been randomly drawn into groups of five within their conference based on win-loss records from the 2023-24 regular season. Each team will play four designated Group Play games – one game against each opponent in its group, with two games at home and two on the road – on "Cup Nights," which will take place every Tuesday and Friday from Nov. 12-Dec. 3. The only NBA games played on Cup Nights will be Group Play games.

GROUP PLAY DRAW:

To determine each team's opponents in the Group Play games, the 15 teams in each conference were divided into three groups of five teams via a random drawing.

Before the drawing, each team was placed into a "pot" based on its record from the prior regular season (2023-24). In each conference, one team from each pot was randomly selected into each of the three groups in that conference. The pots were as follows:

- Pot 1: The teams with the three best prior-season records in a conference.
- Pot 2: The teams with the fourth- through sixth-best prior-season records.
- Pot 3: The teams with the seventh- through ninth-best prior-season records.
- Pot 4: The teams with the 10th- through 12th-best prior-season records.
- Pot 5: The teams with the 13th- through 15th-best prior-season records.

Thehe Orlando Magic will be in EAST GROUP A, along with the New York Knicks, Philadelphia 76ers, Brooklyn Nets and Charlotte Hornets. Orlando's Emirates NBA Cup 2024 Group Play games are Tuesday, Nov. 12 vs. Charlotte (7 p.m. ET), Friday, Nov. 15 vs. Philadelphia (7 p.m. ET), Friday, Nov. 29 @ Brooklyn (7:30 p.m. ET) and Tuesday, Dec. 3 @ New York (7:30 p.m. ET, TNT).

All of the groups are below:

GROUP PLAY TIEBREAKERS:

In the event two-or-more teams are tied within a group, the tie among the teams will be broken according to the following tiebreakers (in sequential order):

- Head-to-head record in the Group stage.
- Point differential in the Group stage.
- Total points scored in the Group stage.
- Regular season record from the 2023-24 NBA regular season.
- Random drawing (in the unlikely scenario that two-or-more teams are still tied following the previous tiebreakers.

KNOCKOUT ROUNDS:

Eight teams will advance to the Knockout Rounds: the team with the best standing in Group Play games in each of the six groups and two "wild cards" (the team from each conference with the best record in Group Play games that finished second in its group). The Knockout Rounds will consist of single-elimination games in the Quarterfinals (played in NBA team markets on Tuesday, Dec. 10 and Wednesday, Dec. 11) and Semifinals and Championship (played in Las Vegas on Dec. 14 and Dec. 17, respectively). The Knockout teams will compete for a prize pool and a trophy, the NBA Cup.

In each conference, Quarterfinal games will be hosted by the two teams with the best record in Group Play games, and the team with the best record in Group Play games will host the wild card team.

During the Knockout Rounds on days when Emirates NBA Cup games are not scheduled (Dec. 12-13 and Dec. 15-16), the 22 teams that do not qualify for the Knockout Rounds will each play two regular season games. The four teams that lose in the Quarterfinals will each play a regular season game on either Dec. 15 or Dec. 16 against the opponent in their same conference.

PRIZE POOL:

For the 2024-25 season, the Emirates NBA Cup prize pool will be allocated to the players on the teams that participate in the Knockout Rounds. estimated as follows based on the BRI growth factor from 2022-23 to 2023-24:

- Players on winning team of Championship: $514,971 each
- Players on losing team of Championship: $205,988 each
- Players on losing team of Semifinals: $102,994 each
- Players on losing team of Quarterfinals: $51,497 each

LEAGUE HONORS:

At the conclusion of the Emirates NBA Cup, the NBA will name the Most Valuable Player of the competition and the All-Tournament Team. Selection will be based on the players' performance in both Group Play and the Knockout Rounds.

On April 11, 2023, the Orlando Magic announced that it will relocate its NBA G League affiliate to Kissimmee, Fla., and it will be rebranded as the Osceola Magic. Their new home is Osceola Heritage Park, beginning play at Silver Spurs Arena in November 2023.

"We are excited to bring the Magic and NBA G League basketball to Osceola County, Kissimmee and Osceola Heritage Park," said Orlando Magic CEO and Osceola Magic Managing Partner Alex Martins. "We would like to thank Osceola County Chairwoman Viviana Janer, County Manager Don Fisher and Osceola Heritage Park General Manager Robb Larson in assisting us in making this move a reality. We look forward to being an invested community partner in Kissimmee and Osceola County."

The NBA G League is the NBA's official developmental league, preparing players, coaches, officials, trainers and front office staff for careers in the NBA, while acting as the league's research and developmental laboratory. The NBA G League features 31 teams – 30 with one-to-one affiliations with NBA franchises.

"Osceola County's strategic planning continues to attract top tier organizations that share in our vision for the community," said Janer. "We are honored to have the Osceola Magic make their new home at OHP. When it comes to sports and entertainment, we already host many premium events and organizations. Today, I'm proud that the Orlando Magic organization is joining the list of marquee partners that call Osceola County and Osceola Heritage Park their home. We look forward to cheering on our new team and welcoming fans from all over to experience the magic of Osceola County."

"We're thrilled to welcome the Osceola Magic to our community and to Osceola Heritage Park," said Larson. "This partnership will not only bring exciting professional basketball games to Osceola County, but also provide opportunities to local businesses and tourism. We look forward to working closely with the team to create a memorable experience for fans and players alike."

During the 2023-24 campaign, a record 339 players (59.7%) on NBA end-of-season rosters had G League experience. In 2023-24, three members of the Orlando Magic spent time in the G League with their affiliate.

The Orlando Magic's G League affiliate captured the 2021 NBA G League championship.

RICH AND HELEN DEVOS COMMUNITY ENRICHMENT AWARD

Magic owners Rich and Helen DeVos established this program to honor an Orlando Magic player who dedicates his efforts beyond the basketball court to enhance the lives of others. In selecting the player each year, the anonymous committee looks at several criteria including the three "A's": Action, Attitude and Atmosphere. Specifically, that means the player's actions off the court are honorable in nature, the player displays a respectable attitude toward those he encounters, and the player shies away from situations that may be negatively perceived and provides a positive environment for others through his actions. The winner receives $20,000 that will be donated to the charity of the honored player's choice. Cole Anthony was selected as the winner of the 2024 Rich and Helen DeVos Community Enrichment Award.

NBA FOUNDATION

Working directly with all 30 teams, their affiliated charitable organizations and the NBPA, the Foundation will assist national and local organizations that provide skills training, mentorship, coaching and pipeline development in communities across the U.S. and Canada.

"This is a major event for us. There are so many needs out there," said Magic Chairman Dan DeVos. "It's something my parents have always done [community engagement and outreach]. They always taught us that everybody has something to give – time, talent, treasure, whatever it may be. That's just part of what we do. It's sort of our DNA. Wherever you are, throughout the country and throughout the world, there are people that are in need – and it's our responsibility to help."

Perfect for wine and sports lovers, the Annual Orlando Wine Festival and Auction will be held at the Four Seasons Resort Orlando. It will feature more than 40 wineries and 8 award-winning chefs, all supporting the Orlando Magic Youth Foundation, a charity that helps at-risk kids in Central Florida.

NICK ANDERSON
Community Ambassador

As part of its continued commitment to the Central Florida community, Nick Anderson joined the organization's community relations department as community ambassador during the summer of 2006. Anderson, who was a staple in the Orlando community as a player for a decade, will continue to take part in a variety of community outreach efforts.

The Magic's first-ever NBA Draft selection out of the University of Illinois (11th overall, 1989 NBA Draft), Anderson played ten seasons for Orlando from 1989-99. In 692 career regular season games with the Magic, he averaged 15.4 ppg., 5.3 rpg., 2.8 apg. and 1.45 stlpg. Anderson ranks as the franchise's all-time leader in games played (692), field goals made (4,075), steals (1,004), field goals attempted (8,976) and three-point field goals attempted (2,480). He also stands second on the Magic's all-time list with 10,650 points, 900 three-point field goals made and 22,440 minutes played.

In 2014, along with Pat Williams, Anderson was an inaugural inductee into the Orlando Magic Hall of Fame. He was also inducted into the Chicagoland Sports Hall of Fame in September 2016 and into the Florida Sports Hall of Fame in November 2019.

Anderson may best be remembered for one of the greatest moments in Magic history – stealing the ball from Michael Jordan during the closing seconds of Game 1 of the 1995 Eastern Conference Semifinals, allowing Orlando to win the contest and eventually move on to the NBA Finals.

In 2005-06, Anderson was the first honoree as part of the Magic's "Commitment to the Past" program, a multi-season effort aimed at embracing Magic history and the team's former players. Anderson won the inaugural Rich and Helen DeVos Community Enrichment Award in 1995-96. He also serves as a pregame and postgame television analyst for select games.

BO OUTLAW

As part of its continued commitment to the Central Florida community, Charles "Bo" Outlaw joined the organization's community relations department as community ambassador in February 2008. Outlaw, who was extremely active in the Orlando community as a player with the Magic for more than six years, will continue to take part in a variety of community outreach efforts.

During his time with the Magic, Outlaw was recognized for his outstanding work in the Central Florida community with the Rich and Helen DeVos Community Enrichment Award. He won the award three times (1998-99, 2005-06, 2006-07) and is one of only two players in team history to accomplish that feat. Outlaw also serves as a pregame and postgame television analyst for select games.

STUFF THE MAGIC MASCOT

On October 27, 1988, STUFF literally burst onto the scene when a large egg was discovered in front of the old Amway Arena. No one is sure where it came from or how it arrived in Orlando. Witnesses, however, reported a giant explosion followed by a shower of deflated basketballs, Orlando Magic bumper stickers and puffs of green smoke. The oversized green dragon that emerged from the commotion had no idea of the impact he would soon have on "The City Beautiful."

STUFF is one of the most recognizable mascots in professional sports. STUFF prides himself as the Orlando Magic's number one fan, and he relishes his role as the team "funny guy." Whether seen backflipping off a 16-foot ladder, shooting his signature backwards half-court shot, or perhaps throwing a cake in the face of an unsuspecting fan from another team, STUFF seldom seems to slow down his pace. Although unpredictable at times, his comedic timing and impromptu style is guaranteed to bring a smile to the faces of fans both young and old.

Our lovable dragon STUFF took his fame to new heights in 2014. After a game-time decision to propose to supermodel Kate Upton, STUFF was seen on several media outlets and was even discussed on TMZ. That wasn't enough for the big green guy. STUFF delivered a dance-off challenge to Hashtag, the mascot of the "Tonight Show with Jimmy Fallon." While the show was visiting Orlando on June 18, 2014, STUFF and Hashtag battled it out in an epic dance-off on national television. The result was a tie. In March of 2015, STUFF made ESPN's Top Ten Plays with his dangerous and exciting backflip dunk off a 16-foot ladder. STUFF was also named the NBA's Mascot of the Year for 2015-16 and 2016-17, making him the first ever back-to-back recipient.

For more information on "Orlando's Mascot," follow him on X and Instagram (@STUFFMagic) and on YouTube (@STUFFtheMagicMascot).

KIA CENTER: BEYOND LEGENDARY

FROM A VISION TO BLUEPRINTS TO REALITY

The Orlando Magic served as the developer of the downtown Kia Center, which competes to host major national events, concerts and family shows. The facility is owned and operated by the City of Orlando on behalf of the Central Florida community.

The Kia Center opened in 2010 and was designed to reflect the character of the community, meet the goals of the users and build on the legacy of sports and entertainment in Orlando.

The building's exterior features a modern blend of glass and metal materials, along with ever-changing graphics via a monumental wall along one façade. A 180-foot tall tower and spire serves as a beacon amid the downtown skyline.

2017 VENUE EXCELLENCE AWARD

In August 2017, the Kia Center was recognized with the prestigious Venue Excellence Award from IAVM – the International Association of Venue Managers. The Kia Center was the only arena to earn the honor.

The Venue Excellence Award recognizes five IAVM venues of any type within the membership which demonstrate excellence in the management and operation of public assembly venues. This includes but is not limited to amphitheaters, arenas, auditoriums, casinos, complexes, convention centers, exhibit halls, fair/festival grounds, performing arts centers, race tracks, stadiums & university venues. IAVM takes pride in its members and member venues that excel in providing their communities with a safe and enjoyable space for all types of events and educational opportunities.

Any venue, publicly or privately owned and operated, that has demonstrated excellence within the last calendar year and has at least one current employee who is an IAVM member in good standing may apply.

The following four criteria framework help demonstrate the ways in which the venue has demonstrated excellence in venue management and operations: operational excellence, team-building/professional development, safety and security, and service to the community.

2013 CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE AWARD

The Kia Center was honored on June 6, 2013 with the Customer Experience Award during TheStadiumBusiness Awards presentation held in association with TheStadiumBusiness Summit in Manchester, England.

TheStadiumBusiness Summit is the largest dedicated meeting in the world of the owners, operators and developers of the world's leading stadiums, arenas and major sports venues. Previous recipients have included City Square/Etihad Stadium, Manchester City FC, Manchester, England (2012), The Family Area – Cardiff City FC, Cardiff, Wales (2011) and The O2 Arena, London, England (2010).

With the opening of the Kia Center in 2010, the Orlando Magic spearheaded a specialized customer service training program in conjunction with the Disney Institute for all Kia Center employees. Annually the initiative provides training to more than 2,000 employees.

The criteria for a Customer Experience Award nomination requires that the stadium, arena or major sports venue consistently deliver outstanding levels of service at every stage of the customer journey.

2012 FACILITY OF THE YEAR

At a sports industry annual awards ceremony on May 23, 2012, the Kia Center was named "Facility of the Year."

The announcement was made by Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal and Sports Business Daily at the prestigious Sports Business Awards in New York City, which annually recognizes excellence and outstanding achievement in the business of sports.

Kia Center served as host for the 2012 NBA All-Star Weekend in Orlando, culminating with the 61st NBA All-Star Game on Sunday, February 26. In a thrilling contest, the West defeated the East, 152-149. More than $95 million in economic impact in Orange County, Florida was generated from NBA All-Star Weekend, according to a study conducted by Strategic Marketing Services and SportsEconomics, LLC. In addition, the NBA All-Star Game at the Kia Center provided unprecedented exposure, as the contest was broadcast in 215 countries and territories in 47 different languages.

AMENITIES FOR ALL LEVELS OF TICKET BUYERS

The 875,000 square foot, Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Gold certified building features a sustainable, environmentally-friendly design and unmatched technology, including 1,100 digital monitors and multiple premium amenities available to all patrons in the building.

Every level of ticket buyer has access to a number of premium amenities.

"It's a great day for Central Florida. History will look back on this day in the same light as the day that Walt Disney announced he was building his theme park in Orlando," Magic Chief Executive Officer Alex Martins said the night of the approval, July 26, 2007, adding: "I would like to thank Mayor Rich Crotty and Mayor Buddy Dyer, as well as both the County and City Commissions for their vision and leadership. I would also like to thank the Walt Disney World Company, Universal Orlando, SeaWorld, the Central Florida Hotel and Lodging Association, the Orlando/Orange County Convention and Visitors Bureau, as well as the entire Orlando tourism and business community for their active participation in ensuring this positive outcome for new downtown sports and entertainment facilities for the people who call Central Florida home."

The Magic were major financial participants in the public-private partnership - contributing $50 million toward construction of the Kia Center, $10 million toward the arts center, and $25 million toward construction of five community recreation centers. The Magic's other contributions toward operations, fundraising and financing push the team's total participation in the downtown venue projects to more than $150 million.

In a historic move, the Magic agreed that Kia Center would be designed and constructed to meet the certification criteria for an environmentally "green" building development standard.

"We want this facility to not only serve our community but to reflect our community's values," Martins said.

Populous, formerly HOK Sport, was selected as designer of the Kia Center. Hunt Construction group was selected as the construction manager. The official groundbreaking celebration was held July 25, 2008. The events center was originally named the Amway Center on August 5, 2009 and the building opened to the public for the first time on October 1, 2010. It was renamed the Kia Center on December 20, 2023.

Inside the arena, patrons will find modern amenities in a comfortable setting – ideal for hosting family events as well as basketball games. Concourses are spacious, offering unique concessions and activities for kids and adults alike. The Bud Light Baseline Bar on the main Terrace concourse overlooks the event floor, and children will enjoy spending time in the kid-oriented STUFF's Magic Castle and retail opportunities on the upper Promenade concourse.

"From the inside out, beginning to end we were committed to developing a world class venue that would bring a myriad of events that would appeal to the diverse taste of Central Florida residents," said Mayor Buddy Dyer. "Whether it's a child experiencing his or her first basketball game or two friends singing along at a concert, these are the shared experiences and memories that will be created at the Kia Center."

With 875,000 square feet of space, the Kia Center offers plenty of room to incorporate the modern-day amenities found in most professional arenas of today, and seating which is expandable to more than 20,000 seats to accommodate major national events.

The $380 million facility features eight levels, five public concourses, 37 restrooms, 55 concession points of sale, 60 suites, 68 loge boxes and 1,400 club seats. The Kia Center features up to 17 hospitality spaces for rental on a per event basis.

UNIQUELY ORLANDO

"We took a hard and long look at the essence of Orlando before coming up with a design that we believe reflects the best and most distinctive aspects of this community," said AIA, Populous Sport Senior Designer Brad Clark. "And just as importantly, the building will set a new standard in sustainable design as one of the greenest professional sports facilities in the country."

To celebrate Central Florida's moderate climate, the building is filled with a variety of indoor-outdoor spaces. Once guests enter the voluminous, 80-foot-tall Disney Atrium main lobby, they are able to return to the outdoors via the Michelob ULTRA Club overlooking Church Street.

The arena was designed to respond to its distinct urban setting while revealing the activities occurring within. Bounded by Church Street, Hughey Avenue, South Street and Division Avenue, the arena's primary entrance faces north to Church Street, creating a natural extension of the nearby downtown entertainment core. The Church Street entry features a large public entry plaza connecting the arena's spacious Disney Atrium.

"In designing the community's new center we feel we created the framework for a facility that will be the catalyst for economic revitalization in downtown's west side, while establishing a flexible design that will serve as a great home and attract the nation's premier events," added the Magic's Martins. "The building has a design unique to Orlando, while providing a framework for environmental sustainability."

JOBS IN A TOUGH ECONOMY

The massive construction project served as a boon to the local construction business in a time when jobs were scarce because of the sharp downturn of the nation's economy.

The Magic and City of Orlando worked closely with local minority and women-owned businesses — some of which were based out of the nearby Parramore community — awarding them with more than 30 percent of the contracts totaling $90-plus million, exceeding the 24 percent benchmark established by the City of Orlando.

Of the 170-plus minority and women-owned firms which worked to construct the facility, 61 were African-American-owned firms, 52 women-owned firms, 37 Hispanic-owned firms, 22 Asian-American-owned firms and two Native-American-owned firms.

ENVIRONMENTALLY-FRIENDLY

Sustainable design and construction specifics focused on the opportunities to create an environmentally-friendly building in various categories. Among them: providing water efficiency; optimizing energy and atmosphere protection; conserving materials and resources; monitoring indoor environmental quality and health; selecting environmentally preferred operations and maintenance.

These elements combine to create one of the most environmentally-friendly, high-performing professional arenas in the country and the first NBA arena which was originally designed and constructed to be Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Gold certified.

ONE OF THE MOST TECHNOLOGICALLY-ADVANCED BUILDINGS IN NORTH AMERICA

The arena has more than 1,100 screens of high-definition content via Internet Protocol Television and a digital signage network which maximizes fan engagement and interaction, as well as providing unlimited opportunities for advertisers and sponsors.

The Daktronics center-hung scoreboard alone includes four primary high definition LED video displays with 840 lines of resolution each, eight auxiliary video/scoring/statistics displays and two LED ring displays. More than 9 million individual LEDs are used in the 18 displays incorporated into the center-hung scoreboard. Overall dimensions of the center-hung scoreboard are 42 feet by 41 feet by 41 feet (HxWxD). Complementing the primary scoreboard are two LED ribbon boards mounted on the interior fascia of the seating decks.

The bigger size, flexibility and advanced technology allows Orlando to attract bigger concerts, major political conventions and compete for more major sporting events such as conference and NCAA tournaments.

"We've designed a facility that has so many built-in amenities for every level of ticket-buyer," Martins said. "So many of these buildings in the past have been designed where a lot of the amenities have focused only on the premium ticket-buyer, the courtside seat holder or the club seat holder, but here with the Kia Center, we have bars, restaurants and clubs on every level for every ticket-buyer; and that's for Magic games and every event. So, it really is a building that has a high level of amenity for everybody."

"Over the past three years, we have focused on revitalizing the Parramore neighborhood and have experienced a resurgence in our downtown," said Orlando Mayor Buddy Dyer as the design for the building was unveiled on December 11, 2007. "Today marks another important day in our efforts, as the facility takes shape with the design unveiling of this new landmark…a landmark that will be a gathering place for all of Orlando and Central Florida."

MAGIC GAMING

Magic Gaming competes in the NBA 2K League and just completed its seventh season. The NBA 2K League is a professional esports league co-founded by the NBA and Take-Two Interactive Software, Inc., which began play in May 2018. Follow Magic Gaming on Twitch – OrlandoMagicGaming, Instagram/X - @MagicGaming, Facebook/Magic Gaming or at https://magicgaming.nba.com.

In an effort to continue the revitalization of downtown Orlando and Parramore and to centralize the Orlando Magic staff downtown, the team continues to make progress on the Sports and Entertainment development design which will create jobs and provide dining, hotel, living, and entertainment options.

In April 2024, developers JMA Ventures LLC and Machete Group Inc. announced that the $500 million, mixed-use project will be named Westcourt.

Located on an eight-acre site bounded by Church Street to the south, Division Avenue to the west, Central Boulevard to the north, and Hughey Avenue to the east, Westcourt will feature 270 high-rise residences; a 261-room, 11-story Kimpton hotel; up to 300,000 square feet of office (which will include the Orlando Magic headquarters); 120,000 square feet of entertainment, dining and retail; a 3,500 capacity live event venue; multiple meeting spaces; and a 1,140 stall parking garage. The project will also include 1.5 acres of outdoor common area including a 28,000 square foot urban living room at the heart of the site.

"Like with the Kia Center, this has been several years of planning and working with the City to find the right avenue to add another iconic destination that will add to the core of downtown," said Magic CEO Alex Martins. "We look forward to entering this new stage as we work with our partners to make Orlando a great place to live, work and play."

The Magic's major investment also continues their efforts in the revitalization of downtown Orlando and the Parramore neighborhood. The Magic and the Parramore community have long been partners in helping the citizens of that region. The Magic have given more than $1 million to the Parramore community while also donating thousands of community service hours, building nine reading and learning centers and two playgrounds, and providing hundreds of backpacks with school supplies.

Martins is proud that the Magic have been able to broaden their footprint downtown so that they can continue to be socio-economic growth catalysts for the area. Martins is also extremely proud that the Magic will continue to be leaders in the growth and development of Parramore.

"It's our neighborhood and it's important to us that we continue to help revitalize it," Martins said of Parramore. "We think this is another significant step. Like the great addition of Exploria Stadium, hopefully this is a spark for others to invest in that part of downtown. Downtown really stretches from Orange Avenue to Camping World Stadium. So, this is an opportunity to spark the western side of that stretch."
